

SOCIETY

Elected Vice-President

MRS. JOHN PRYOR COWAN, formerly Miss Lillian Freeman, of Virginia, was elected vice-president of the Southern Women's Club, this month. Mrs. Cowan, who is a member of the Southern Women's Club, is a sister of Mrs. Edwin P. Cox, of this city.

lyn, of the Twelfth Virginia Regiment, and was before her marriage Miss Lillian Freeman.

Miss Virginia Haskins gave a small luncheon at "Argyll," the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Jeffers, near Richmond, this week. In honor of her sister, Mrs. Thompson Kingsford, of Oswego, N. Y., who is visiting here. Covers were laid for twelve, and the guests included a number of Mrs. Kingsford's friends from Richmond.

To Spend Holidays in Richmond.

Miss Elizabeth Bridges Hobson, who is attending school at Garrison Forest, near Baltimore, this session, will spend the Christmas holidays in Richmond as the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. E. L. Hobson, at 2 West Franklin Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham B. Hobson have been for a portion of the time with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bridges in Ashland, and they will not return to Richmond until the middle of January.

At the Art Club.

Mrs. George J. Bull, of Paris, will speak at the Art Club Tuesday afternoon on "Elizabeth Nourse, Painter and Woman." Elizabeth Nourse is one of the very few, if not the only, American woman painter to have won recognition from the French government and the Société des Beaux Arts. Some of her work has been bought by the French government, and several of her paintings are owned by the Chicago Art Institute.

It will be remembered with pleasure by art lovers in Richmond who had the good fortune to hear Miss Anna Selon Schmidt when she spoke at the Woman's Club two years ago, or Mrs. Stafford Phillips, when she talked before the Art Club on the Chicago Art Institute last year, that they both had charming reproductions of the work of this painter. Miss Nourse is an old friend of Mrs. Bull's, and has kept her in touch with the work she is doing for the wounded in her studio overlooking the Luxembourg Gardens.

Owing to her many friends among the artists and students in Paris, Mrs. Bull fills the old Art Club parlors for a little while with the atmosphere of the quarter and the students return to their work with renewed determination to make themselves and Virginia famous in the world of art.

After the lecture tea will be served. All friends of art in Richmond are invited to attend.

Golden Wedding Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Brauer, of "The Farm," Henrico County, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Monday evening, December 20, with an informal at home. No invitations have been issued on account of mourning, but Mr. and Mrs. Brauer will receive their friends informally. This will be the occasion for a general family reunion from many parts of the West and abroad.

Leave for the South.

Judge and Mrs. S. C. Graham have closed their home in Tidewater and opened their winter residence at City Point, Fla., where they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spotts Graham and Miss Kate Graham for the holiday season. Miss Graham will also be at the Playhouse for the winter.

Judge and Mrs. Graham were in Richmond this fall, when they spent a short time at the Jefferson Hotel.

Approaching Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Clara Armstrong Shafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillespie Shafer, to John Tyler, III, son of John Tyler, Jr. and the late Mrs. Susan Mary Tyler, will be celebrated at 11:30 o'clock at the Church of the Ascension, Highland Park, on Saturday morning. Miss Alice Mather Shafer will attend her sister as maid of honor, and Robert Myers, of Philadelphia, a cousin of the groom, will be best man. Mrs. Randolph A. Siegel, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. William Gibbs Kable, of Staunton, will be matrons of honor. The ushers include Randolph A. Siegel, Alexander H. Shafer, Philip Clayton, Holladay and Thomas Beale. Mr. Shafer will give his daughter away.

A reception will be held on the evening previous to the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Shafer. A wedding breakfast will be given immediately after the marriage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph A. Siegel, 32 West Grace Street.

Charity Concert in Ginter Park.

An interesting event of this week will be the concert on Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Ginter Park Assembly Hall, under the auspices and direction of the Ginter Park Woman's Club. A charming program has been arranged and a number of well-known Richmond artists will take part. The concert is for the benefit of the Associated Charities of Richmond, and a number of Richmond guests will be present.

Luncheon for Miss Johnston.

Mrs. Malvina Patterson gave a luncheon Wednesday at "Hill Crest," her residence on the Cary Street Road. The affair was in honor of Miss Ann Roy Johnston and Miss Mary James Marple, of the University of Virginia, and the guests. Decorations were in pink, and the table was arranged for twelve, including, besides the honor guests, Miss Mary Haskins, Miss Martha Valentine, Miss Alice Blair, Miss Frederica Campbell, Miss Mary Stafford Marple, Miss Mary Morris, Miss Alice Munson, Miss Ellen Beirne Scott, Miss Martha Purcell and Miss Mary Meek, of Philadelphia, who is the guest of Miss Martha Valentine.

Reception To-Night.

An informal reception for Miss Gertrude Fanny Bowman and Arthur L. W. Cohen, of Philadelphia, whose engagement was recently announced, will be held this evening from 9 to 12 o'clock at the home of Miss Bowman, 2235 West Grace Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Cohen, Misses Minnie and Violet Cohen and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rosenblatt, of Philadelphia, will be guests at the reception.

Miss Gresham's Lectures.

Miss Hattie Belle Gresham will resume her course of lectures in storytelling, child-study and the interpretation of lectures after Christmas. Miss Gresham is a story-teller of great charm and magnetism, and her classes are among the most interesting social events of each season.

Luncheon Thursday.

Mrs. Ward Pennington Lettitt, of New York, who has been spending some time here, entertained Mrs. Arthur Cannon, Miss Edith White, Miss Grace Perkins, Mrs. Edward Evans and Mrs. Charles Snead at luncheon at the Country Club on Thursday. Mrs. Lettitt left yesterday for her home in New York.

Concerning Mrs. Dunn.

Literary circles in Richmond have been much interested in the quaint article—a peep into Hannah Logan's Receipt Book of 1768, which is published by Mrs. John Dunn, of this city, in a recent number of the Southern Woman's Magazine. The receipt book, it is said, is filled with the housewife's wisdom of Colonial days, and makes most interesting and enlightening reading matter at the present time. This Hannah Logan was the daughter-in-law of that James Logan, founder of the Loranian Library, in Philadelphia, and was noted throughout the colony as a housekeeper and as one who possessed a remarkable knowledge of medicine as it was practiced in those remote days. The good old Quaker stock of the City of Brotherly Love lived well and dispensed a lavish hospitality, judging by the quantities called for, such as one recipe for pastern, Mrs. E. N. Chapman, 1908 Highland Street, Mr. and Mrs. Rawls will visit friends in Norfolk, Va., before returning to their home in Ivor.

Chaperon Bachelor Bachelors.

Those who have been asked to act as patronesses for the Bachelors' Cotillion Club include Mrs. Walter S. McNeill, Mrs. Charles C. Barakdale, Mrs. Fred McQuinn, Mrs. Barton Haxall Wise, Mrs. Henry Landon Cabell and others.

The members of the club for last season were as follows, and practically the same list holds good for the present year: R. M. Armstrong, James Angus, Dr. J. Harry Augustine, Walter Briggs, H. B. Byrd, Neville Brown, Dr. C. Coleman, Frank Cutchins, W. C. Coulbourn, E. L. Coulbourn, Edwin P. Conquest, Frank Cutchins, Travis Epps, Dr. N. J. Eckelrode, George Fitzgerald, Carl Fleming, Peyton Fleming, G. A. Graves, A. B. Gupton, Jr., Gray Garland, Dr. W. B. Hopkins, W. B. German, W. Catesby Jones, R. M. Jeffries, W. W. Lelew, Walter Moore, Charles Morris, John Lea, W. J. Miller, S. T. Morgan, W. H. H. Mann, Jr., W. M. Marshall, W. T. Oppenheimer, Jr., L. D. Patton, Jr., Fred Roe, T. J. Stubbs, Jr., Childrey Scott, Henry C. Sutton, Alfred Smith, E. B. Sydney, John W. Swartz, Cary Wingfield and others. The officers of the club are: President, George Fitzgerald; vice-president, T. J. Stubbs, Jr.; secretary-treasurer, Childrey Scott; Board of governors: John P. Lea and W. T. Oppenheimer, Jr.

The annual dance of the club will be held on the evening of December 22.

Farewell Function.

A farewell tea given at Mount Vernon, the Virginia building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition on Tuesday afternoon, November 29, by Miss Nannie Randolph Heth, the gracious hostess of the building, was attended by most of the members of the official set, and the elite of the city of San Francisco.

Miss Heth was assisted in the receiving line by Mrs. James Rolph, Jr., wife of the Mayor of San Francisco; Miss Alice Davis, of Virginia; General Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, and State Senator Saxon W. Holt, the Virginia Commissioner, introduced the guests.

The old Virginia room of the building was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers, in the center of the main table with real chrysanthemums represented a parting gift of the Virginia Society to Miss Heth. The spacious Virginia home was taxed to capacity with distinguished guests such as have gathered in this historic structure on the many occasions on which Miss Heth has entertained throughout the exposition season, and the Tuesday afternoon affair was a fitting climax to the brilliant social history of the Virginia pavilion.

An exposition land occupied the veranda of the building and rendered plaintive Southern music during the occasion, and inside a special musical program was given.

Big Minstrel Show.

The minstrel performance to be given in the auditorium of St. Patrick's Female Academy to-morrow evening under the auspices of the Holy Name Society will be a most interesting affair. The performance will be unique in so far as the cast is composed, with few exceptions, of men that might be properly termed "elderly," but who have not lost their cunningness when it comes to staging an "Old-Time Minstrel."

It is for the benefit of a worthy charity, and all interested are invited to attend.

Marriage Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hardy Tallaferrero announce the marriage of their niece, Mrs. Elizabeth Brooke Hopkins Hinchman, and Conrad Powell Carter, of Virginia. The ceremony took place Wednesday afternoon at Mr. and Mrs. Tallaferrero's apartment in the Portsmouth, Washington, Rev. U. G. B. Pierce officiating. Owing to mourning in the bride's family, there were no wedding guests.

Mrs. Carter is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hopkins, of Howard County, Maryland.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Carter will make their home in Washington. They are now motoring through the Valley of Virginia, visiting places of interest.

Return From Bridal Tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rawls, of Ivor, Va., have returned from their extended Northern tour, which included Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York. The bride was formerly Miss Eulalie W. Bowden, of this city. The young couple are now being entertained in the home of the bride's Valentine, George Gibson, Murray McGuire, John Stewart Bryan, John Peyton McGuire, George Bryan, Dr. McNeill and George Warren.

To Chaperon Bachelor Bachelors.

Those who have been asked to act as patronesses for the Bachelors' Cotillion Club include Mrs. Walter S. McNeill, Mrs. Charles C. Barakdale, Mrs. Fred McQuinn, Mrs. Barton Haxall Wise, Mrs. Henry Landon Cabell and others.
